

Divine Intervention (feat. J.R.)

Lecrae

Intro:

You know in intervention they tell you that you're hurting somebody who loves you, and divine intervention's no different, yea, the moment is now

Hook:
Here is my moment, here is my lifetime
All that I have I will give to You

In this moment, 'cause nothing really matters at all

Verse 1:
Yah created days, weeks, summer, spring, winter, fall

Yet became weak so You could free us from the fall

You hold the earth in Your palm with Your great power

You always have the time the way You transcend hours

Wind and the waves tsunami is 'round

But You walk on top of them both

They humbly bow

Before I work I need a couple tools

You spoke the earth into existence, no auto tune

More than auto tune, more than meineke

'Cause I've been missing all the notes

In the minor keys and the major ones

And the key to life is coming to the end of it

And embracing Christ

Hook:

Here is my moment, here is my lifetime

All that I have I will give to You

In this moment, 'cause nothing really matters at all

Everything that this heart longs for other than You I will let die

Take all that I am 'cause nothing really matters right now

This is my moment

Verse 2:
I holla empty me

So hollow be my name

You're so immense

But condescend to dwell inside my frame

You restrain the waves

And tame fierce lions

I mean fierce liars, crush empires

We all hanging by a thread cutting at the wires

Ignorant that our descent lead to hellfire

And when I yell fire, they tell me false alarm

'Cause they don't smell the smoke and they don't sense the harm

There's something worse than the black plague's coming

And nothing under the sun can save us from it

There's no hope but divine intervention

And Christ saves victims who are dying from addiction

Hook:

Here is my moment, here is my lifetime
All that I have I will give to You
In this moment, 'cause nothing really matters at all
Everything that this heart longs for other than You I will let die
Take all that I am 'cause nothing really matters right now
This is my moment
Verse 3:
They say in God we trust
But what's the bigger sin in?
That we don't trust in Him or trust the stuff on which its written (that's money)
'Cause we all dying, and we all trying
To stay alive but the truth we ain't all buying
Those of us who buy it, we're never bought from
We gon' live free forever in the Savior's arms
It's needles in arms full of life's drugs
Lust, pride, hate, death running through our blood
Need a blood donor, need a transfusion
He's over hanging on the cross for your substitution (Jesus)
So in conclusion, only one solution
Trust divine intervention as your resolution
Hook:
Here is my moment, here is my lifetime
All that I have I will give to You
In this moment, 'cause nothing really matters at all
Everything that this heart longs for other than You I will let die
Take all that I am 'cause nothing really matters right now
This is my moment
