

Somebody Save Me

Krypteria

I bare my soul, stripped on a silver platter - my back to the wall, blindfolded, tied up, battered Yearning for someone, someone to end this misery but will that someone, anyone, ever come and rescue me?

Somebody save me I'm close to the edge - someone to fill me with life give me dreams I never had

Somebody save me and answer my pleas - someone to lift me back up and to put my heart at ease

Somebody help me please

Outcast, alone, searching but never finding - I'd give my all for a trace of silver lining
and rescue me?

had

ease

Somebody help me please

There's not much left for me to lose, can anybody heal these wounds? Someone to start my life anew - where's that someone where are you?

ease

Somebody help me please
