If I Could Find

GoldFish

If I could find a new state of mind
Locked up inside, i'm still flying blind
If I could find a safe place to hide
Hiding where the world opens
On the sun sets
The body never ever restsWhat any could find
I left it behind
Lost in the tide
Just left it subside
What she left behind
I still couldn't find
Life and time we spent
Tired burns
But the searching never endsIf I could find a new state of mind (oh)
Locked up inside, I'm still flying blind (oh)
If I could find a safe place to hide (oh)
Riding where the world opens (oh)
On the sun sets (oh)
(The body never ever rests)
(The body never ever rests)
(The body never ever rests)
(The body never ever rests)
The body never ever rests
If I could find
If I could find
If I could find
If I could find a new state of mind
