Peace Sign

NateWantsToBattle

One day I set my eyes up to the sky
And like a plane my dreams were passing by
And I awoke to tears that had filled my eyes
I need to spread my wings out and fly
I lie awake at night with these memories
Of feeling powerless and they're haunting me
I'm always reaching out for this destiny
To make it happen that's all on meCruel fate sets in motion
And no one else knows why
Waiting for the day to come when will it show up
Claiming what's before my eyes
With every issue I gotta breathe through
Or the moment might just pass
They all told me I can't, they were laughing
Well look who's laughing nowNow I can feel the fire burning deep within me
I'll be the hero and no one can stop me
Loudly I will scream it from the top of my lungs
You've got those tired eyes from crying every moment
You cannot hide it, someone's gonna notice
I'll be your hero, no one's gonna hurt you again
Gonna raise my hand with a peace sign
Our story will last forever
