You Will Know

Volbeat

Walk the lonely streets
without a home
Dear Mary, where's the kids
When did they leave?
Where did they go?Feel the morning breeze, after all these years
Been so far away, in a prison cell
I no longer wanna feel the darkness in my soul
Forever, forever you will know
Forever and ever, you will know
Here I sit again, lost at your place I brought the flowers that I know you like
For you and my dearAll the memories, after all these years Couldn't find a wayNever been the same
I no longer wanna feel
the darkness in my soulForever, forever you will know Forever and ever, you will knowI'll find the peace alongside the road And make believe there's a sign for us all The innocence, that I know I behold
Will set my spirit free, so long
Forever, forever you will know
Forever and ever you will know, that I love you

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/