Voodoo

Ashanti

You were all that I wanted
I fell in love with all of your heart and your soul
From that moment, couldn't imagine
You ever hurting me or mistreating my love
I should have knownRivers of tear drops
These sharp pains in my heart
If This was the way that you love
You never should have loved meYou never should have loved me
You never should have touched me
You never should have,
Never should have told me you loved me and you would never leave me.
'Cause everything that you would do
It made me fall in love with you
Until your left and you made that mistake
Now I can't take you back if I wanted to
Balled up, laying in my bed
Thoughts racing through my head
How did we start off in love and end up here?
You said you loved me, and I believed you
Seems like you dont even mean what you sayRivers of tear drops
These sharp pains in my heart
If this was the way that you love
You never should have loved meYou never should have loved me
You never should have touched me
You never should have
Never should have told me you loved me and you would never leave me.
'Cause everything that you would do
It made me fall in love with you
Until your left and you made that mistake
Now I can't take you back if I wanted to
You were all that I wanted, I fell in love with
You cause you loved me and I thought that you were ready
I thought that we were gonna be a family
And if you weren't then you should've let me
Keep all of my love to give, to someone wasYou never should have loved me
You never should gave touched me
You never should've
Never should have told me you loved me and you would never leave me.
'Cause everything that you would do
It made me fall in love with you
Until your left and you made that mistake
Now I can't take you back if I wanted to

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/