Forever

As I Lay Dying

Forever your eyes will hold the memory
I saw your heart as it overtook me we tried so hard to understand and reason but in that one moment i gave my heart awayI gave my heart away in that moment I gave my heart away in that moment I gave my heart awayWith that perfect breath where my mind lay beside me and all i knew is what had overtaken me with no reason i am comforted by inability to understand Forever your eyes will hold the memory
but in that one moment i gave my heart awayI gave my heart away
in that moment I gave my heart away in that moment I gave my heart awayForever your eyes will hold the memory forever your eyes will hold the memory
forever your eyes will hold the memory
When I wake from this dream will your smile still open my heart and leave me transparent?
will your smile still open my heart
and leave me transparent?
