Sounds Like the End of the World

Poison the Well

So you've opened your eyes
Too late in the day
They wait for you in the roomYou know they
(And so you've opened your eyes)
Are having
(Too late in the day)
Conversations of punishment
(And they wait for you inside the room)And you know that they are Having conversations of punishments
Last night
(Last night you lost control)
You lost
(Broke all their blood)
Control
(Pumping mechanisms)So you stand
(So now you stand)
(In front of the polished sand)
In front of the
(Wondering what will become of you and them)
Polished sandThey are scared
Burn them like you did the rest
They are dead
Burn them like you did the rest
And one step in front of the other
You make your way to them
You've rehearsed these words so many times
Say it like you mean itYou always yell
You always yell
You always yell
You
