Requiem

Trivium

How can you just stand there and stare
The world burns alight the air
Fire of passion ignite
Open yourselves to fightTo reignite the will Deafening call to killThe structure of Archetype
Abhorrence
To collapse all I've learned
To absorb with open eyes to see thisRevelation new serenity
Destruction disharmonyTo see this
I'll wait for you
To rise from this dream
I will be waiting for you
To rise from this
Gazing at twilights end
Arms raised chant extolIf our world ended today would you suffer
Or just sit there awaiting damnation
