

Trouble

American Authors

We grow apart
just to be on our own.
And we walk right next
to all that we have known. Give me your hand.
And we can climb further up.
And we climb the trees and the forest seems to be bigger now. Oh we have so much more. (ooh ooh ooh oooh) I knew she was trouble from the first kiss.
I could tell that something wasn't right with
you.
With you.
We take our time
to see what is up ahead.
But we're scared
of the past and what is left. We'll stay inside
and never let out our heads.
And we'll pretend that the world it will never end. No, it will never end. (ooh ooh ooh oooh) I knew she was trouble from the first kiss.
I could tell that something wasn't right with
you.
With you. (one, two, three, four)
I could feel it glowing in the night with.
I could tell that something wasn't right with
you.
With you. Why don't you come back down
so we can turn it around?
(ooh) Why don't you ever know
just to let it go (oh-oh-oh) 'Cause nothing comes around
for you.
So bring me back from one to two Well tell me what else I could do. (ooh, ooh, ooh oooh) I knew she was trouble from the first kiss.
I could tell that something wasn't right with
you.
With you. (one, two, three, four) I could feel it glowing in the night with.
I could tell that something wasn't right with
you.
With you. Why don't you come back down
so we can turn it around?

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>