Heal You (feat. Wretch 32)

Sinead Harnett

Wish I could find a way to heal you
So far away, beside youWatching you sleep
You stayed up telling me your fears
And how this life has done you wrong
It's cutting you deep
But you're selling yourself way too short
You can't see clear, but please keep strong
Can't begin to even know your pain
But I don't wanna see you hurt yourself like this
You know these quick fixes ain't fooling no one
Just lean on me, it's now or never
Don't you want to see the light or feel the sun?
Ooh, I wish I could heal you
How good would it feel to
Let go of all you've been through?
How I wish that I could take it away
But you're the only one that can help yourself, baby
Lost in your blues
Running away from the reality that's left you on your own
And If you could choose
You would do anything to bring him back
So you are not alone
Can't begin to even know your pain
But I don't wanna see you hurt yourself like this
Don't underestimate how far you have come
I'm here for you, just take my hand
Oh, won't you dare to see the light or feel the sun?
Ooh, I wish I could heal you
How good would it feel to
Let go of all you've been through
How I wish that I could take it away
But you're the only one that can help yourself, babyOoh, I wish I could heal you
How good would it feel to
Let go of all you've been through
How I wish that I could take it away
But you're the only one that can help yourself, babyWoke up beside you
That's the first time I slept in two months
My old ways have got me busy trying to find some new love
Just lost another brother
I'm getting touchy, nearly lost my mother
In and out the hospitals a motherfucker
And the feds killed Jermaine like they done Mark

Little brothers gone to jail
It's too much for one heart
Baby if I cried would you respect me?
If not, it's probably best that you neglect me
Baby can you heal me?
I can show you where it hurts though
I'm only human like Superman when he's in work clothes
I was told for you to be the man, you stay in work mode
I'm whizzing round like the pizza man, the way I turn dough
Harnett, I'm asking you to place me in your harness
If not, I send my best regards babe regardless
Yeah, they say the pain cuts deep
I'm just hoping that Jermaine don't bleed no, noOoh, I wish I could heal you
How good would it feel to
Let go of all you've been through
How I wish that I could take it away
But you're the only one that can help yourself, babyOoh, I wish I could heal you
How good would it feel to
Let go of all you've been through
How I wish that I could take it away
But you're the only one that can help yourself, baby
