

Perfectly Flawed

Otep

If you do this
You'll never have
A chance to try again
If you do this
You'll never have
A chance to tryIt's the same sound
Same sting
The same collapse
Of every thingIt's the same slice
Same blade
The same lie
Same old vein
My weight
My face
My height
My race
I'm a mistake.My weight
My face
My height
My race
I'm such a disgrace.You're perfectly flawed
You're perfectly incomplete
Like cracks in the glass
And faded photographsYou're perfectly flawed
You're perfectly incomplete
Let them come near when
Perfection's the key you need
Nothing left to lose
Just try again
Just try againIts the same doubt
The same dream
It's the same sabotage
'Cause I'm the enemyIt's the same night
Same day
It's the same parasite
Feeding on the betrayalMy weight
My face
My height
My race
I'm a mistakeMy weight
My face

My height
My race
I'm such a disgrace You're perfectly flawed
A work in progress
Perfection's the key you need A disguise of self-deception
Hides my secrets perfectly
I'm rejecting my reflection
'Cause I hate the way it judges me Don't you do it
You're not even you yet
Don't you do it
You're not even you yet You're perfectly flawed
A work in progress
