

The Lovers

Deptford Goth

I'm a mother, I'm a father
One position is another
I'll be loyal, you'll be good
Holding to each other like it's all we got
We make babies, to watch them grow
Teach them what we know and then we let them go
Love your mother, love your father
One position is another Ever since the day we both
Told each other that we both
Never let a thing go wrong
Only ones to the tangled love
Ever since the day we both
Told each other that we both
Never let a thing go wrong
Only ones to the tangled love
You're a mother, you're a father
My position is your other
Keep it real, keep it good
Holding to each other like we know we should
Making babies, let them grow
Teach them all we know and then let them go
Love your mother, love your father
One position is another Never feeling pain in your heart
Never feeling pain isn't always so hard
Love stains everything goes
Never feeling pain is up all in our hearts
Ever since the day we both
Told each other that we both
Never let a thing go wrong
Only once to the tangled love
Ever since the day we both
Told each other that we both
Never let a thing go wrong
Only once to the tangled love Ever since the day we both
Told each other that we both
Never let a thing go wrong
Only once to the tangled love
Ever since the day we both
Told each other that we both
Never let a thing go wrong
Only once to the tangled love
